

The U.S. Government Printing Office (GPO) is planning a redesign of Ben's Guide to U.S. Government for Kids and has released two surveys in order to capture user feedback. One survey is geared toward kids and students, while the other is geared toward parents, educators, and adult users.

Originally released in 1999, Ben's Guide serves as the educational component of GPO Access. GPO is asking the FDLP community to not only provide feedback on ways to improve and update the site, but also to share the survey with educators, parents, and other users of Ben's Guide so that we can gather the widest variety of user feedback possible.

A link to the surveys is provided on the Ben's Guide homepage as well as the K-2, 3-5, 6-8, and 9-12 entry pages. Take the survey .

The survey will be available through Monday, February 2, 2009. We look forward to your feedback, and thank you for helping to spread the word!