Monday, November 24, 2008 - Last Updated Monday, November 24, 2008

The 2007 Privacy Act Issuances are now available through GPO Access, and the Office of the Federal Register web site .

The Privacy Act Issuances contain descriptions of Federal agency systems of records maintained on individuals and rules agencies follow to assist individuals who request information about their records. The two sources of Privacy Act Notices are: the Privacy Act Issuances (Compilations 1995-Forward) and the Federal Register which has updates to the most recent Compilation. Previous editions are available as ASCII text files on GPO Access.
