

Celebrating 'Outside the Box' Federal Depository Library Conference, October 20-22, 2008

The year of 2007 is the 75th year of Federal Depository Library Program (FDLP) at Morris Library. To promote and memorialize this U.S. federal government information service, I organized and led the Celebration Planning Committee August 2006-November 2007, planned and conducted a series of activities culminating in a gala event on November 9, 2007. I have also created the 75th Anniversary website to document the activities via online articles, press release, pictures, audio and visual recordings, photo album, etc.

- If you want to learn more about the details of our activities, please visit our celebration website. It is available at <http://www.lib.siu.edu/departments/govdocs/anniversary>

- If you have more questions about organizing and planning activities, budgeting, how much time spent on each activity, creating your own celebration logo, requesting letter template sent to political dignities, getting and handling media interviews, etc., please feel free to contact me at:
