The screenshot shows the homepage of the Internet Archive Wayback Machine. At the top, there's a navigation bar with links for ABOUT, CONTACT, BLOG, PROJECTS, HELP, DONATE, JOBS, VOLUNTEER, and PEOPLE. The main heading reads "INTERNET ARCHIVE" followed by "waybackMachine" in a stylized font. Below this, it says "Explore more than 324 billion web pages saved over time". There's a search bar with "http://" and a "SHOW HISTORY" button. A "DONATE" button is also visible. The page features several sections: "Tools" with links to "Wayback Machine Availability API", "WordPress Broken Link Checker", and "404 Handler for Webmasters"; "Subscription Service" with a description of Archive-It; and "Save Page Now" with a "SAVE PAGE" button. The footer contains "FAQ | Contact Us | Terms of Service (Oct 21, 2014)".

Greenland ice mass loss continued in 2016
 December 28, 2016
 Filed in: News & Features

Although surface melt did not set a new record in 2016, the Greenland Ice Sheet did continue a long-term trend of decreasing mass, according to the latest Arctic Report Card from NOAA and its partners.

INTERNET
ARCHIVE

“We began in 1996 by archiving the Internet itself, a medium that was just beginning to grow in use. Like newspapers, the content published on the web was ephemeral - but unlike newspapers, no one was saving it.”

Brewster Kahle, Founder & Digital Librarian

Universal Access to All Knowledge

A black and white photograph of the United States Capitol building in Washington, D.C. The image shows the grand neoclassical architecture, including the prominent dome on the right and the portico with columns on the left. A wide set of steps leads up to the entrance. The sky is overcast with clouds. A semi-transparent horizontal band across the middle of the image contains the text "Universal Access to Government Information" in a large, white, sans-serif font.

Universal Access to Government Information

The Internet Archive offers over 20,000,000 freely downloadable books and texts. There is also a collection of 1.8 million modern eBooks that may be borrowed by anyone with a free archive.org account.

Welcome to Canadian Libraries

2,585 items

Various Canadian libraries have joined the Internet Archive to scan various collections of books as part of a high volume book scanning pilot project. Custom scanning equipment and open source software has been developed by the Internet Archive to support the needs of the partner libraries and their collections. This is being hosted at the University of Toronto.

Command-Line Interface

The `ia` command-line tool is installed with `internetarchive`, or available as a binary. `ia` allows you to interact with various archive.org services from the command-line.

Getting Started <https://archive.org/services/docs/api/internetarchive/cli.html>

Created by Focus
from Noun Project

The easiest way to start using `ia` is downloading a binary. The only requirements of the binary are a Unix-like environment with Python installed. To download the latest binary, and make it executable simply:

```
$ curl -LOs https://archive.org/download/ia-pex/ia
$ chmod +x ia
$ ./ia help
A command line interface to archive.org.

usage:
  ia [--help | --version]
  ia [--config-file FILE] [--log | --debug] [--insecure] <command> [<args>]...

options:
  -h, --help
  -v, --version
  -c, --config-file FILE Use FILE as config file.
  -l, --log               Turn on logging [default: False].
  -d, --debug            Turn on verbose logging [default: False].

Working Towards Universal Access to Government Information

- Keep digitizing, crawling and curating born-digital material
- Let's NOT duplicate and work collectively
- If you have digitized material that needs a home, we can provide a free collection space and support to upload
- Do you have a passion for Serials metadata or would like to enrich?

Please Get in Touch!

At this rate, we will run out of microfilm!

Can we be of service?

Thank you!
