

Delivering timely business, trade, and economic information since 1985

20 Years & Going Strong

Created in 1985, STAT-USA® (formerly, the Office of Business Analysis) was created to disseminate U.S. economic information to the American public via electronic media.

Over the next 20 years, STAT-USA has expanded to include business and international trade information through landmark products such as the National Trade Data Bank® CD-ROM, STAT-USA®/Internet™, USA Trade® Online, and EuroTrade Online®.

EuroTrade Online

The screenshot shows the EuroTrade Online website. At the top, it says 'EuroTrade Online' and 'Welcome!'. Below that, there's a navigation menu with links like 'Home', 'About', 'Contact', 'Help', 'Privacy Policy', 'Accessibility', 'Disclaimer', and 'Site Information'. The main content area has a heading 'EuroTrade Online' and a sub-heading 'Check for access to the Help Database'. There's a message about the system being down for maintenance from October 1, 2009, to October 15, 2009. Below that, there's a paragraph describing EuroTrade Online as a way to supplement the US-based international and domestic business information products that STAT-USA provides. It mentions that EuroTrade Online provides access to import and export merchandise trade for each of twenty-five major European countries. At the bottom, there's contact information for STAT-USA: 1-800-STAT-USA, 202-482-1406, and an email address: Info@esa.doc.gov.
