

FEDERAL
DEPOSITORY LIBRARY
CONFERENCE
#FDLConference 2019

OCTOBER 21-23
ARLINGTON, VA

AGENDA

Note – All programs in the Crystal and Washington Ballrooms are also being broadcast virtually.

MONDAY, October 21

---

8:00 – 8:30	Registration / Coffee with Council	Crystal Ballroom, Salon B
8:30 – 9:15	Networking &amp; Exhibitor Browsing	Crystal Ballroom, Salon B
8:30 – 9:15	New Attendees Orientation <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• Lara Flint, Outreach Librarian, LSCM, GPO</li><li>• Joe Paskoski, Senior Outreach Librarian, LSCM, GPO</li></ul> Learn the basics of how the Federal Depository Library Conference works and who the Depository Library Council (DLC) is. Meet GPO staff, and get insider information on how to make the most out of your conference experience.	Wilson / Harrison
9:30 – 10:30	2019 Federal Depository Library Conference Kickoff <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• Laurie Beyer Hall, Superintendent of Documents &amp; Managing Director of LSCM, GPO</li><li>• Mary Clark, DLC Chair, Library of Virginia</li><li>• Anthony D. Smith, Chief of Projects &amp; Systems, LSCM, GPO</li><li>• Fang Gao, Chief of Library Technical Services, LSCM, GPO</li></ul> During this opening session, the event will be officially called to order, and opening remarks and updates will be delivered.	Crystal Ballroom
10:30 – 11:00	Break

---

11:00 - 11:30	Keynote Presentation: Ensuring Enduring Digital Access: Principles and Approaches to Digital Preservation <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Dr. Trevor Owens, Head of Digital Content Management for Library Services, Library of Congress</li> </ul> The increasingly digital records of our communities and our organizations require all of us to become digital stewardship and digital preservation practitioners. The challenge seems daunting but the good news is we don't have to do it alone. A distributed network of practitioners and learners across the globe are increasingly finding ways to learn together and share and pool their resources to tackle these challenges and provide enduring access to our digital heritage. This talk will provide an overview of key principles for practicing digital stewardship and an orientation to how to connect with and engage with the international community of practice developing and refining the craft of digital stewardship and digital preservation.	Crystal Ballroom
11:30 – 12:00	Library of the Year Award Presentation	Crystal Ballroom
12:00 – 2:00	Lunch Break On Your Own (Suggested Regional/Selective lunch)
1:30 – 5:30	Poster Presentations	Crystal Ballroom, Salon B
2:00 – 3:00	Do Tweets Document the Constitutional Duties of the President? Social Media and the Presidential Records Act <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Will Stringfellow, Federal Depository Coordinator, Vanderbilt University Central Library</li> <li>• Hannah Bergman, Information Policy Counsel, National Archives and Records Administration</li> </ul> This program will look at the role of the Office of the Federal Register and the National Archives in preserving Presidential social media.	Crystal Ballroom, Salon A
2:00 – 3:00	New govinfo Enhancements &amp; Content <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Megan Minta, Collection Development Librarian, LSCM, GPO</li> <li>• Amanda Dunn; Program Planner; Programs, Strategy, and Technology (PST), GPO</li> <li>• Jon Quandt, Lead Program Planner, PST, GPO</li> </ul> This session will highlight new content added and new features and enhancements to GPO's govinfo (www.govinfo.gov) over the last year. This includes updates to developer tools including the govinfo API, new links to related documents, and recently added digitized publications.	Washington Ballroom
2:00 – 3:00	Podcast a Document Today! <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Stephani Rodgers, Public Affairs Librarian, Virginia Commonwealth University, James Branch Cabell Library</li> </ul> In the last year, I began a library podcast that features a Government document, and then an explanation of the agency or concept covered in the document. This session will address the pitfalls and pleasures of podcasting about Government-related topics, including outreach to guests, the technical difficulties, and the rewards of creating the relationships needed to get an academic podcast off the ground.	Wilson / Harrison

2:00 – 3:00	Your Guide to America’s Finances: Using Human Centered Design to Make Federal Financial Data Accessible to the Public	Jackson
	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Linnea Powell, Product Owner, Bureau of Fiscal Service, Department of Treasury</li> </ul>
	In 2018, at the request of Secretary Mnuchin, the Bureau of the Fiscal Service set out to re-invent the Citizen’s Guide to the Financial Report of the United States, as an engaging and accessible web product. The result was Your Guide to America’s Finances, which presents the public with a “year in review” snapshot of the trillions of dollars collected and spent by the Government each year and provides useful context for those numbers. Topics covered include Federal spending, Federal revenue, the deficit, and the Federal debt. This session will provide an overview of the history and philosophy of the project, along with a site demonstration.
3:10 – 4:10	The Federal Advisory Committee Act, GPO, and the Depository Library Council	Crystal Ballroom, Salon A
	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Cynthia Etkin, Senior Program Planning Specialist (Librarian), Office of the Superintendent of Documents, GPO</li> <li>Stephen Parks, State Librarian, Mississippi Law Library</li> <li>Mary Clark, DLC Chair, The Library of Virginia</li> </ul>
	The Federal Advisory Committee Act (FACA) of 1972 provides guidance for the conduct of Federal Government agency advisory groups, such as the Depository Library Council. GPO and Council have been working to bring our practices in line with FACA to support transparency and accountability. This program will explore ways that Council and GPO are fine-tuning our practices to align with the law.
3:10 – 4:10	Depositories in the Digital Era	Washington Ballroom
	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Laurie Hall, Superintendent of Documents &amp; Managing Director of LSCM, GPO</li> <li>Ashley Dahlen, Senior Outreach Librarian, LSCM, GPO</li> </ul>
	GPO is often asked, “Why be a depository library when everything is online?” Let’s discuss the importance of being in the FDLP and the critical role libraries of all types play in continuing GPO’s mission to “Keep America Informed.” We will also talk about what digital depositories do and how that differs from the more traditional print-oriented depositories.
3:10 – 4:10	Cougar Sighting in the Hannon Library: Making a Docs Anniversary Count	Wilson / Harrison
	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Dorothy Ormes, Government Information/Instruction Librarian, Southern Oregon University, Hannon Library</li> </ul>
	In April of 2018, the Hannon Library at Southern Oregon University celebrated our 65th anniversary as an FDLP with a half-day gala event featuring presentations by SOU faculty members, graduate students, a BLM Interpretive Specialist and an archaeologist/historian who formerly worked for the U.S. Forest Service. We highlighted our partnerships with Government agencies and scientists for the creation of a digital collection of documents related to the unique Southern Oregon Bioregion. The collection includes documents related to the Cascade Siskiyou National Monument, one of 27 national monuments under review by former Secretary of Interior, Ryan Zinke. To everyone’s surprise, some of our local wildlife crashed the party.

3:10 – 4:10

NIST Databases and Resources: Hidden Gems

Jackson

- Regina Avila, Digital Services Librarian, NIST Research Library
- Kate Bucher, Metadata Librarian, NIST Research Library
- Susan Makar, Research Librarian, NIST Research Library

Join librarians from the NIST Research Library to learn about NIST databases and resources. This session will begin with a brief overview of the National Institute of Standards and Technology (NIST), and within NIST, the Information Services Office, also known as the NIST Research Library. The talk will then focus on some NIST databases that you may not know about. These include Standard Reference Data (SRD) such as the NIST Chemistry WebBook, the NIST Digital Library of Mathematical Functions (DLMF), the Research Library's very own NIST Digital Archives (NDA), the new NIST Public Data Repository, and more.

---

4:10 – 4:30

Break

4:30 – 5:30

Becoming a Digital Content Contributor

Crystal
Ballroom,
Salon A

- Carmen Tinker, Government Documents Librarian, Washington State Library
- Jessica Tieman, Digital Preservation Librarian, LSCM, GPO
- David Walls, Preservation Librarian, LSCM, GPO

Join GPO and staff from the Washington State Library to learn how easy it is to contribute digital content to govinfo. This session will overview the process to become a contributor and how to package content for govinfo. Finally, the Washington State Library will share why you don't need a large digitization operation to contribute.

---

4:30 – 5:30

Help! I'm Accidentally in Charge of Moving a Government Documents Collection

Washington
Ballroom

- Amelia Raines, Federal Documents Librarian, Arizona State Library, Archives and Public Records, State of Arizona Research Library
- Susan Leach-Murray, State Publications Librarian, Arizona State Library, Archives and Public Records, State of Arizona Research Library

What do you do when you're suddenly faced with moving a regional FDLP library on a deadline? How do you maintain public access to your collection and provide good customer service during a relocation? When working with limited resources, how do you prioritize? Hear from two librarians from the State of Arizona Research Library about the strategies we used to manage the move of Arizona State and Federal Government Documents collections. The discussion will include answers to these questions and more: we'll cover different approaches to moving our two collections, moving struggles and challenges, the good things about moving, and hindsight into what we would have done differently.

4:30 – 5:30 Who Are We the People Wilson / Harrison

- Dominique Hallett, STEM and Government Documents Librarian, Arkansas State University, Dean B. Ellis Library
- Kenya Flash; Librarian for Political Science, Global Affairs, and Government; Yale University; Center for Science and Social Science Information

At last year's FDL conference the "Who are "We the People"?: A look into the world of Government information professionals" survey was announced. This session will serve as a preliminary discussion of the resulting data. Principal investigators Kenya Flash and Dominique Hallett will share insights into those who facilitate Government information collections and perceptions of their future roles. Attendees will learn more about those who work directly with Government information in a professional capacity in an effort to answer, "Who are we the people?"

---

4:30 – 5:30 DLC Working Meeting Jackson

- Members of the Depository Library Council

Council business will be discussed. This meeting is open to all.

---

TUESDAY, October 22

---

8:00 – 8:30 Coffee with Council Crystal Ballroom, Salon B

---

8:00 – 5:30 Poster Presentations Crystal Ballroom, Salon B

---

8:30 – 9:30 Projects and Systems: Who Are We? What Do We Do? Where Are We Going? Crystal Ballroom, Salon A

- Anthony D. Smith, Chief of Projects & Systems, LSCM, GPO

Projects and Systems is a team within LSCM at GPO. Its mission is to develop and provide technology, archival, and project management services to support LSCM strategic objectives. In this session, you'll get the details on some of the major initiatives currently underway by the team and have an opportunity to ask questions.

---

8:30 – 9:30

Gov Docs are Special Too! Primary Source Instruction using Government Information Collections

Washington Ballroom

- Jennifer Kirk, Government Information Librarian, Utah State University, Merrill-Cazier Library
- Megan Graewingholt; Social Sciences & Government Documents Librarian; California State University, Fullerton; Pollak Library
- Sarah Dobransky, Government Documents Supervisor, Cleveland Public Library

From one-shot collaborations with Special Collections colleagues to embedded research visits, there are many ways to use Government documents in library instruction. This panel will feature case studies of library instruction sessions that highlight Government documents as primary sources. Presenters will share example lesson plans, activities, and/or handouts utilized in instruction. Depending on the size and history of a FDLP Government documents collection, libraries may have an abundance of primary sources that can supplement Special Collections manuscript or map collections. Integrating Government documents into Special Collections instruction allows librarians to highlight historic materials that are relevant to their users. Through collaborations with Special Collections colleagues, these instruction sessions raise the profile of historic Government documents and put them in the hands of users.

This discussion may be useful to other FDLP Coordinators who wish to learn more about using Government documents in primary source instruction, integrating Government documents into general library instruction, and/or wish to share their own experiences with colleagues. The panel will allow time for Q&A or group discussion, depending on the number of attendees.

---

8:30 – 9:30

Marine Biology and Fisheries Resources

Wilson / Harrison

- Mark Love, Government Information Librarian, Nicholls State University, Ellender Memorial Library

The Government information collection at Nicholls State University contains a Center of Excellence collection devoted to the National Marine Fisheries Service. This presentation will highlight Government resources dealing with marine biology and fisheries. The presenter will also explore how these resources can be marketed to biology students.

8:30 – 9:30	USAGov - Who We Are, What We Do <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Maria Marrero, Bilingual User Experience Designer &amp; Team Lead, General Services Administration</li> <li>• Arlene Hernandez, User Experience and Research Specialist, General Services Administration</li> </ul> USA.gov is the central, official source of Government information and services for the U.S. public. By creating and aggregating topical information from multiple agencies, we give people a more complete understanding of how they can access the Government benefits and programs they need. USA.gov is also part of the 23 required resources that every one of the 1,124 Federal depository libraries must provide access to. This presentation will provide a comprehensive look at USA.gov and its Spanish counterpart USAGov en Español, our mission, specialized content and improvements for better user experience across all channels: website, contact center, and social media. Participants will leave with an understanding of all we offer to better use our services to help your communities and/or support researchers who are looking up Government information while visiting Federal depository libraries across the country.	Jackson
9:40 – 10:40	Preservation Stewards: Managing Your Collections <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Brent Abercrombie, Federal Documents Coordinator, Indiana State Library</li> <li>• Dominique Hallett, Government Information &amp; STEM Librarian, Arkansas State University</li> <li>• Karen Pfiffner, Government Information Coordinator, Colorado School of Mines</li> <li>• Suzanne Ebanues, Supervisory Management Analyst, LSCM, GPO</li> </ul> Join several Preservation Stewards and GPO for a discussion on how libraries are managing their Preservation Steward collections. GPO will also provide updates on the program and plans for assessments as several Preservation Stewards approach their three-year anniversaries in 2019 and 2020.	Crystal Ballroom, Salon A
9:40 – 10:40	Weeding Print &amp; Digital Resources <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Ashley Dahlen, Senior Outreach Librarian, LSCM, GPO</li> <li>• Melissa Fairfield, Planning Specialist, LSCM, GPO</li> </ul> GPO is getting many questions about weeding FDLP collections, both for print material and online or digital resources. This program will address the weeding process for print resources, as well as some ideas for weeding digital formats. We will also discuss FDLP eXchange, a tool to help individual library weeding projects contribute to the future collection needs of the FDLP network.	Washington Ballroom

9:40 – 10:40	Digital Deposit: Collection Development for the 21st Century <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Jessica Tieman, Digital Preservation Librarian, LSCM, GPO</li> <li>• James Jacobs, U.S. Government Information Librarian, Stanford University Libraries</li> <li>• Robbie Sittel, Government Information Librarian, University of North Texas, Libraries</li> </ul> At the Spring 2019 DLC Virtual Meeting, the Digital Deposit Working Group discussed the value of digital deposit with the depository community. This panel will now expand the discussion on digital deposit to talk about practical applications and potential benefits to Federal depository libraries and their users. The Digital Deposit Working Group has envisioned three pilot projects to test the viability of digital deposit. This session will give an update of our work since spring and will elicit feedback and ideas from attendees for moving forward. This session will be participatory.	Wilson / Harrison
9:40 – 10:40	Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (FDIC) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Richard Huffine, Chief, FDIC Library &amp; Public Information Center</li> <li>• Ziyadah Joynes, Chief, FDIC Public Information Center</li> </ul> The Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (FDIC) is an independent agency created by Congress to maintain stability and public confidence in the nation's financial system by insuring deposits, examining and supervising financial institutions, making complex financial institutions resolvable, and managing receivership when banks fail. FDIC is not part of the FDLP but it does offer free publications and access to substantial information resources from its website. This program will present an overview of what is available and how libraries can serve their communities with FDIC resources.	Jackson
10:40 – 11:00	Break
11:00 – 12:00	The 5Ws + H and the National Collection of U.S. Government Public Information <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Laurie Beyer Hall, Superintendent of Documents &amp; Managing Director of LSCM, GPO</li> <li>• Cindy Etkin, Senior Program Planning Specialist (Librarian), Office of the Superintendent of Documents, GPO</li> </ul> The National Collection is a vital information asset for the American people. LSCM has been talking about it in generalities for a couple of years now. But what do you really know about it? The 5Ws + H is a formula most often used by journalists and researchers to ensure they are getting the complete account of an area of interest. Join us in this session to learn the who, what, where, when, why, and how of the National Collection - and you'll have the complete story.	Crystal Ballroom, Salon A
11:00 – 12:00	Fun Fact: You Can Use govinfo.gov and Congress.gov to Do Legislative Histories on the Cheap <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Christopher Brown, Reference Librarian / Government Information Librarian, University of Denver, University Libraries</li> </ul> Both govinfo.gov and Congress.gov contain most of the resources necessary to do sophisticated legislative history research. Not everyone is able to subscribe to more expensive resources like ProQuest Legislative Insight, and this session will show how to put the pieces together on your own. The two main sites will be augmented with several other free sites to complete the picture.	Washington Ballroom

11:00 – 12:00	Introduction to OpenRefine: Using Open Software to Weed and Manage your Government Documents Collection	Wilson / Harrison
	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Eimmy Solis, Social Sciences Data Librarian, University of Southern California, Von Kleinsmid Center Library</li> </ul>
	Have you ever spent hours cleaning a large Excel file for a weeding project? As Government Documents Librarians we are required to periodically take an inventory of our collection and go through the discarding process of our state library. This often involves exporting large metadata files from an online management system in order to understand our collection. This hands-on training will provide an introduction to OpenRefine, a powerful open source tool for exploring, cleaning, and manipulating “messy” data. Participants will learn how to access and download the free software and obtain hands-on experience standardizing and manipulating a sample dataset from a Government documents weeding project.
	Please download OpenRefine before attending this session. Instructions on how to freely download the software are located here:  tinyurl.com/FDLC2019OPENREFINE
11:00 – 12:00	Institute of Museum and Library Services (IMLS) Grants Overview with FDLP Success Stories	Jackson
	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Teri DeVoe, Associate Deputy Director, Grants to States, IMLS</li> <li>• Susan Leach-Murray, State Publications Librarian, Arizona State Library, Archives and Public Records, State of Arizona Research Library</li> <li>• Amelia Raines, Federal Documents Librarian, Arizona State Library, Archives and Public Records, State of Arizona Research Library</li> </ul>
	The Institute of Museum and Library Services (IMLS) is the largest source of Federal support for the nation’s libraries. This session will offer an overview of IMLS grant and research programs, including LSTA funds administered through state libraries. You’ll hear from beneficiaries of these funds in Arizona, including a regional Depository Coordinator and a state publications librarian. Whether or not your state offers similar funding opportunities, you’ll come away knowing more about IMLS information resources that could be of broad interest to your patrons.
12:00 – 2:00	Lunch Break On Your Own
1:00 – 2:00	Poster Session	Crystal Ballroom, Salon B
	Meet and talk with the poster creators.
2:00 – 3:00	Communicating FDLP Value: Purpose, Perception, &amp; Persistence	Crystal Ballroom, Salon A
	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Kelly Seifert, Strategic Communications Coordinator, LSCM, GPO</li> <li>• Lara Flint, Outreach Librarian, LSCM, GPO</li> </ul>
	This interactive and (hopefully) entertaining session will provide justification, inspiration, and strategies for communicating FDLP value in your library and in your community. Identifying patron needs and developing tactics for your library will be discussed.

2:00 – 3:00	The 2017 Economic Census: A Preview of Key Data Product Changes <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Kimberly P. Moore; Chief, Economy-Wide Statistics Division; U.S. Census Bureau</li> </ul> The session will provide information on the most comprehensive and detailed business program at the Census Bureau, the Economic Census. This is a key source of data that depository librarians can use with their business clients. The session will include a discussion of the data released on 9/19, the First Look report, and data releases starting in January 2020. Information on the key changes users will see in the 2017 Economic Census from the 2012 Economic Census will be provided. These include NAICS, geography, and other data product changes. Finally, the session will include information on the new data.census.gov platform where the 2017 Economic Census will be disseminated.	Washington Ballroom
2:00 – 3:00	Preserving the Future: PEGI Project Update <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Scott Matheson, Associate Law Librarian for Technical Services, Yale Law School, Lillian Goldman Law Library</li> <li>Robbie Sittel, Government Information Librarian, University of North Texas, Libraries</li> <li>Shari Laster; Head, Open Stack Collections; Arizona State University Library</li> <li>James R. Jacobs, U.S. Government Information Librarian, Stanford University Libraries</li> <li>Deborah Yun Caldwell, Diversity Resident Librarian, University of North Carolina Greensboro</li> </ul> The group will provide updates on the past year's work of the PEGI Project. The format will be a brief presentation and panel Q&amp;A with the audience.	Wilson / Harrison
2:00 – 3:00	GPO's Library Technical Services Update <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Fang Gao, Chief of Library Technical Services (LTS), LSCM, GPO</li> <li>Donna Kraemer, Supervisory Librarian, LTS, LSCM, GPO</li> <li>Stephen Kharfen, Supervisory Librarian, LTS, LSCM, GPO</li> <li>Caroline Hassler, Supervisory Librarian, LTS, LSCM, GPO</li> <li>Megan Minta, Collection Development Librarian, LTS, LSCM, GPO</li> </ul> Join GPO staff for updates on LTS projects and activities, including Basic Collection and Essential Titles lists, special selection offers, CRS reports, govinfo API test, collection development, and staff training. The updates will be followed by a breakout session where attendees can provide suggestions and comments on various topics, such as tangible distribution, collection development, cataloging and metadata initiatives, and collaboration.	Jackson
3:10 – 4:10	National Collection Pilots: Planning, Progressing, and Implementing <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Cindy Etkin, Senior Program Planning Specialist (Librarian), Office of the Superintendent of Documents, GPO</li> <li>David Walls, Preservation Librarian, LSCM, GPO</li> </ul> Join us for this session to hear about the National Collection Pilot Programs (formerly known as the Preservation Services Pilots). What we learned from the Pilot Development Libraries, the next steps we will be taking, and how you and your depository may participate will be covered in this program. There will be time to address your questions.	Crystal Ballroom, Salon A

3:10 – 4:10	Fan the FDLP Flames: Innovative &amp; Inventive Promotional Ideas <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Kelly Seifert, Strategic Communications Coordinator, LSCM, GPO</li> </ul>	Washington Ballroom
Have you been racking your brain to come up with fresh ways to generate awareness of your Federal depository library in your community and beyond? Join GPO to hear about some fun, easy, and effective ways to inform your patrons about the treasures of the FDLP.
3:10 – 4:10	Analysis of Recent Trends in Documents Librarian Job Advertisements <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Claudene Sproles, Electronic Resources Manager and Government Documents Librarian, University of Louisville, Ekstrom Library</li> </ul>	Wilson / Harrison
In this session, we'll report on a study of Government documents librarian job advertisements between 2010 and 2016 and discuss job duties and emerging trends within the profession. Results show that Government documents librarianship is most closely associated with reference services. Join us to learn more.
3:10 – 4:10	Identifying and Accessing NOAA Research <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Jennifer Fagan-Fry, NOAA Institutional Repository Manager, NOAA Central Library</li> </ul>	Jackson
Since its beginnings, NOAA has operated under a Silos of Excellence model, where research was published on disparate platforms, including office-specific databases and program websites. The NOAA Central Library is actively playing a role in the way NOAA approaches scholarly communications that is beginning to break down silos and create a renewed focus on accessibility of research results to the greater scientific community and the general public.
4:10 – 4:30	Break
4:30 – 5:30	2020 Census: How Libraries Can Raise Awareness <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Gavin Baker, Assistant Director of Government Relations, American Library Association</li> <li>• Kirstin Krumsee, Library Consultant, State Library of Ohio</li> <li>• Burton Reist, Assistant Director for Communications, U.S. Census Bureau</li> </ul>	Crystal Ballroom, Salon A
You can make tomorrow's Government information more accurate today! The 2020 Census will begin in March, and the resulting data will be used by researchers for years to come. In addition, more than $800 billion in Federal funds will be allocated to local communities based on the Census results every year for the next decade. However, if the Census misses people, then their communities will lose out. Learn what libraries are doing to help achieve an accurate and inclusive count in the 2020 Census – and how you can get involved!
4:30 – 6:00	Regional Depositories Meeting	Washington Ballroom
An open discussion of issues related to regionals. All are welcome to attend!

---

4:30 – 5:30	Vintage History: Exploring the Social, Political, and Economic Story of Wine through U.S. Government Information <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Marianne Ryan, Dean of Libraries, Loyola University Chicago, University Libraries</li> <li>• Catherine Johnson, Team Leader – Product Management, ProQuest</li> </ul> The Founding Fathers’ fondness for wine is a well-known fact, but the story of wine in America begins long before the War for Independence and is still being told today. What happened in between—including trade and tariff policies, the cultivation of local grapes, commercializing production, Prohibition, the expansion of vineyards and wineries, and international acclaim for U.S. varieties—dramatically impacted our social, political, and economic landscapes. In this session, presenters will provide a taste of the multifaceted role wine played in the life of our nation, gleaned from U.S. Government information resources.	Wilson / Harrison
4:30 – 5:30	Thank You for Your Service <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Donna Daniels, Government Documents Librarian, University of Arkansas, Mullins Library</li> </ul> There are approximately 19 million U.S. veterans living in the United States and 2.1 million active duty service people. The Government has a variety of books, journals, hearings, websites, social media, and web exhibits about veterans and the time period in which they serviced. These are great resources for outreach and research to veterans, researchers, and the general public.	Jackson

---

WEDNESDAY, October 23

---

8:00 – 8:30	Coffee with Council	Crystal Ballroom, Salon B
8:30 – 9:30	Cybersecurity and Your Personal Information: Balancing Your Right to Information Access with Your Need for Privacy <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• James Burd, Acting Director of Privacy (Privacy Officer), Cybersecurity and Infrastructure Security Agency, Department of Homeland Security</li> </ul> Those of us who work with Government information in libraries are fully committed to open and transparent access to the information our users need to be fully functioning citizens. At the same time, we are aware of the need to protect the personal information of our users from any unwanted and unauthorized use. This program will address how our Government works to protect our personal data while providing access to information we need as citizens. Questions to be answered in this program include: How do I know the Government will keep my personal data private when I access Government websites such as Social Security or when I file my income taxes? Also, how do I know that my personal data and the data from sites I search are secure from hacking by individuals, organizations, or misuse of any type?	Crystal Ballroom, Salon A

8:30 – 9:30	The Documents Expediting Project, 1946-2004 <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Gwen Sinclair, Librarian, University of Hawai'i at Mānoa, University of Hawai'i at Mānoa Library</li> </ul>	Washington Ballroom
The Documents Expediting Project (DocEx), an acquisition and distribution service for Federal documents that operated out of the Library of Congress (LC) from 1946 to 2004, was an important source of non-depository items, second copies, and fugitive documents. In addition to distributing documents to subscribing libraries and other organizations, DocEx supplied documents to the Superintendent of Documents for inclusion in the Monthly Catalog of United States Government Publications (MoCat). The presenter will outline the history of DocEx, display examples of documents it distributed to libraries, and explain the significance of the program.
8:30 – 9:30	U.S. Geological Survey Publications Warehouse <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Kelly Haberstroh, Digitization Librarian, USGS Library</li> </ul>	Wilson / Harrison
The USGS Publications Warehouse (https://pubs.er.usgs.gov/) is the official online resource that provides access to USGS-authored and -funded publications of the U.S. Geological Survey. Users can access metadata about and links to more than 160,000 publications authored by USGS scientists over the century-plus history of the Bureau, and can obtain free online access to full-text publications published by the USGS. This presentation will provide an overview of the content that is indexed, and will highlight data model links to related Altmetric, Unpaywall, ORCID, CrossRef DOIs, and DataCite DOIs that facilitate and enhance discovery, access, sharing, use/reuse, and assessment. This presentation will also provide an overview of where the Publications Warehouse content is indexed, including the USGS website, USGS ScienceBase, GeoRef, Science.gov, Google, and Google Scholar.
8:30 – 9:30	Don't Reinvent the Wheel: Share FDLP LibGuides to Enhance Collections and Build Community <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Melissa Fairfield, Planning Specialist, LSCM, GPO</li> <li>Cori Holder, Web Content Specialist, LSCM, GPO</li> </ul>	Jackson
Bring your devices, and join us for a hands-on, fun-filled introduction to FDLP LibGuides. Learn ways to use this tool to support collection development and foster relationships with your community. This session will include discussion, games, and more!
9:40 – 10:40	Blurring the Government Documents Lines: How One Research Project Changed Perceptions and Promoted Collections <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Hayley Johnson; Head, Government Documents &amp; Microforms; Louisiana State University; Middleton Library</li> <li>Sarah Simms, Undergraduate and Student Success Librarian, Louisiana State University, LSU Libraries</li> </ul>	Crystal Ballroom, Salon A
Individuals typically associate Government documents with those items that libraries receive through the FDLP. Government documents, however, are so much more than those item numbers. Join us as we discuss how an intensive historical research project became a unique opportunity to promote and discuss Government documents to a variety of audiences. Additionally, the presentation will highlight how the project has helped to slowly change the perception of academic librarians and what their roles can and should be.

9:40 – 10:40	Fun with FOIA and the Zen of Waiting <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Susanne Caro, North Dakota State University, Main Library</li> </ul> FOIA requests are used by researchers and members of the public to access otherwise inaccessible Government content. Learn how to determine where materials are kept, how to make a request, when fees might be waived, and the Zen of waiting.	Washington Ballroom
9:40 – 10:40	The Naval History and Heritage Command: An Introduction for the Library and Research Communities <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Carsten H. Fries, Writer-Editor, NHHC Communication and Outreach Division</li> <li>Richard A. Hulver, PhD, Historian, NHHC Histories and Archives Division</li> </ul> The Naval History and Heritage Command (NHHC), located at the Washington Navy Yard, offers access to many unique resources. Among its research and curatorial functions, NHHC encompasses the Navy Library, established by President John Adams’s executive order in 1800 and part of the Federal Depository Library system since 1895. The library is one of the few major military historical libraries open to the public. Coupled with the library’s holdings, NHHC’s Histories and Archives Division is engaged in a robust program of organizing and digitizing primary-source holdings related to many watershed events and significant periods in the U.S. Navy’s—and our country’s—history. This presentation will provide an overview of these NHHC activities.	Wilson / Harrison
9:40 – 10:40	Council Working Meeting <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>The members of the Depository Library Council</li> </ul> Council business will be discussed, including potential recommendations to GPO. This meeting is open to all.	Jackson
10:40 – 11:00	Break
11:00 - 12:00	DLC Wrap-Up &amp; Closing <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>The members of the Depository Library Council</li> </ul> Join the DLC for a review and discussion of conference takeaways and DLC action items.	Crystal Ballroom, Salon A

Wireless Network Access in the Hotel Meeting Rooms

- Connect to the network named Doubletree - Meetings
- The internet conference code is GPO19

Acronyms

- *DLC: Depository Library Council
- *GPO: U.S. Government Publishing Office
- *LSCM: Library Services & Content Management

Conference Evaluation

Please help us improve future events by completing our conference evaluation: <https://bit.ly/2liP6Kt>