

Meeting the Government Information Needs of Speakers of Non-English Languages – Chat Log

from Andrea Stelljes to everyone: 3:27 PM

That's a very nice display, Eva. Do you have a specific budget for these materials?

from amy hanmer to everyone: 3:27 PM

A

from amy hanmer to everyone: 3:28 PM

As someone who works in an inner city library, this info is impressive.

from Olivia Hedlund to everyone: 3:29 PM

+1 Amy

from Kelly Seifert to everyone: 3:30 PM

The U.S. Government Bookstore offers a civics and citizenship toolkit with a variety of publications bundled at a discounted rate. <https://bookstore.gpo.gov/products/civics-and-citizenship-toolkit-0> - but please note this isn't the traditional boxed toolkit. This is a resource from GPO to assist libraries that want the resources but shipping them individually can get costly, hence the kit.

from Dominique Hallett to everyone: 3:40 PM

I was shocked to find out US Code wasn't in other languages from Marcos Corona to everyone: 3:41 PM wow! I thought Illinois was bad for being a legal desert but to have NONE in a county is shocking!

from Eva Raison to everyone: 3:41 PM

We like these for citizenship <https://bookstore.gpo.gov/products/preparing-naturalization-test-pocket-study-guide-2> but know that USCIS just announced that the test is changing (adding questions).

from Leslie Carr to everyone: 3:42 PM

No shortage of lawyers in NY lol from Sarah Guthrie to everyone: 3:43 PM that's wild there are so few lawyers in Oregon, surrounded by law firms here in DC!

from Lula Westbrook to everyone: 3:50 PM

Praying all is well with you and yours. Each presenter & Speaker Beyond Sight & Sound. Never met an unknowledgeable librarian. Curious to know anyone willing to share, what catapulted their inspiration, the librarian's name, library and state?

from Sarah Furger to everyone: 3:51 PM fingers crossed for that!

from Kelly Seifert to everyone: 4:00 PM

Hi everyone - our session time has ended but we are going to extend by 5 minutes from Brittany Young - she/her, Lane County Law Library to everyone: 4:00 PM

Thank you, Kelly!

from Eva Raison to everyone: 4:01 PM

To add the links: This was the link that I mentioned in my presentation.

<https://www.plainlanguage.gov/>

from Jessica Fomalont to everyone: 4:02 PM

As somebody who has cataloged several CFPB publications, I can tell you that they provide great info in several languages!

from Eva Raison to everyone: 4:04 PM

I like the mention of staff training!

from Brittany Young - she/her, Lane County Law Library to everyone: 4:04 PM

Cultural competency and humility!

from Sarah Furger to everyone: 4:05 PM

Thank you all so much! This was so incredibly informative and helpful!!

from Eva Raison to everyone: 4:05 PM

Thank you!!

from Marina Bacchetti to everyone: 4:05 PM

Many thanks to you!

from Samantha Vargas to everyone: 4:05 PM

Thank you all for all your information!

from Brittany Young - she/her, Lane County Law Library to everyone: 4:05 PM

Thank you!!!

from Channa Cajero to everyone: 4:05 PM

Thank you, very valuable!

from Angie Bonnell to everyone: 4:05 PM

Thank you!! :)

from Cynthia Etkin to everyone: 4:05 PM

Eva, Brittany, and Jane - wonderful presentation and great guidance from Rhonda Murphy to everyone: 4:05 PM

Thank you!